

INCIDENT MANAGEMENT SITUATION REPORT
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1997 - 0530 MDT
NATIONAL PREPAREDNESS LEVEL II

CURRENT SITUATION: Firefighters made good progress on the large fires in California and Nevada. Initial attack activity was minimal for most Geographic Areas. Resource mobilization through NICC remained minimal. Very high and extreme fire indices were reported from units in California, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Maine.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA LARGE FIRES:

CHOKER, Sequoia NF. A Type II Incident Management Team (Battreal) is assigned. This fire is located in the Monarch Wilderness, approximately 50 miles east of Fresno, CA. Minimal fire activity was observed yesterday. Burned area rehabilitation has begun. Demobilization is in progress.

JACKS, Sequoia NF. A Type II Incident Management Team (Bacon) is assigned. This fire is located 30 miles east of Lake Isabella in the Kiahava Wilderness. Significant fire behavior was exhibited from a slopover on the north flank. Air support assisted firefighters with containment efforts on the slopover.

OUTLOOK:

California will be mostly sunny, warmer and drier. The coastal areas will have morning fog and low clouds. Temperatures will be in the 70's and 80's in the mountains, the 90's in the valleys and up to 110 in the southern deserts.

Washington and Oregon will be sunny and very warm. Eastern Oregon will have isolated afternoon and evening thunderstorms. The coast and coastal valleys will have patchy morning fog. High temperatures will range from the 70's along the coast to near 100 in the southwest Oregon valleys.

Nevada will be mostly sunny with a few afternoon and evening thunderstorms over the northeast. Temperatures will be in the 80's and 90's, with highs reaching 109 in the southern deserts.

A storm system will continue to move northward along the west coast of Alaska bringing mostly cloudy conditions. Areas of rain are possible along the west coast, with scattered showers in the interior. Temperatures will range from the 50's along the coast to the lower 70's in the interior.

Minnesota and Michigan will be partly sunny with highs in the 60's and 70's.

Maine will have increasing clouds. Rain is forecast for the southwest and western mountains this morning, moving into northern Maine by tonight. Temperatures will be in the 60's throughout the state.
