OUTLOOK:

 A FIRE WEATHER WATCH IS POSTED FOR SOUTHEAST IDAHO FOR STRONG WINDS AND LOW FUEL MOISTURE. ***

Monsoonal moisture is expected to continue to move into the southwestern United States bringing widespread shower and thunderstorm activity. Winds will be out of the west and southwest at 10 to 20 mph.

A trough of low pressure will slowly move inland in the Pacific Northwest and will help to push a weak cold front into Idaho and the Northern Rockies for widespread wet thunderstorms over the northern portions of the Rocky Mountains. Winds will be strong out of the southwest at 15 to 30 mph.

Isolated thunderstorms are forecast for the eastern Great Basin where some should be dry. High temperatures will be in the 75 to 90 degree range in the valleys and relative humidities should be 25 to 25 percent.

The mountains of the west can expect temperatures from the mid 60's to mid 70's and relative humidities 35 to 45 percent. The warmest deserts of the west can expect temperatures to range from 85 to 105 degrees and minimum relative humidities 10 to 20 percent.
