Predictive Services Discussion: The pattern change across the Pacific Northwest and Northern Rockies regions will gain steam as the pipeline to Arctic air opens with the onset of a Northerly flow that is expected to contain a pair of weak fronts that will bring pockets of snow to the mountains and also to the Northern Plains. The Southwest will remain warm and dry while Texas and the Southeastern states remain wet with seasonal temperatures. Near normal and overall dry conditions are expected from the Great Lakes east through New England. Less cold but dry conditions are expected across Alaska as a ridge of high pressure moves inland from the Bering Sea; however, an Aleutian Low will move east across the Alaskan Peninsula bringing snow to areas along the Southwestern coast.

Escape Routes

Operational Engagement

It's 1400...you have been working all morning. How far away have your safety zones become? Safety zones are only good if you can reach them. How long will your escape route take? What is the condition of the crew? How long will it take your slowest member to get there? Are your expectations realistic?

Look at the times below...if your fire blew up right now, can you and every member of your crew make it to your safety zone?

Only Minutes

Loop, Griffith Park - 5 min
Dude - 8 min
South Canyon - 9 min
Rainbow Springs, Spanish Ranch - 10 min
Hauser Creek - 11 min
Cart, Blackwater - 15 min
Pepper Run - 17 min
Cramer - 24 min
Rock Creek - 30 min
Tuolumne - 39 min
Battlement Creek - 48 min
Thirty-mile Canyon - 50 min
Yarnell Hill - 52 min
Blue Ribbon - 60 min
