Predictive Service Discussion: A critical fire weather pattern may develop along the West Coast from northern California through Washington state, as a strong high pressure ridge offshore begins to approach. A thermal trough will develop just offshore and induce a breezy, dry easterly flow. The area of low pressure over the Southwest will continue to slowly move eastward and weaken. Scattered showers and storms will remain possible along the southern Continental Divide and across the southern and central Great Plains. A cold front will move across the East, bringing scattered showers and storms from Tennessee north to New England. However, high pressure will keep the Gulf Coast states warm and dry.

AAR part 2

The “Chainsaw” After Action Review

It's 0'dark thirty. The crew has worked the fire for sixteen hours straight. No one has eaten a hot meal for days and oh yeah, you might as well be cold. No time for the After Action Review? -- Think again!

It's time to bust out the ...CHAINSAW AAR.

The idea behind the Chainsaw AAR is simple; SPEED. When you need to get an After Action Review done quickly, try this simple format.

1. Have the team form a loose circle.
2. Start with a single team member and ask one of these questions:
  - What is one thing that went well on this shift?
  - What is one thing that went bad on this shift?
  - What is one thing you would do different next time?
  - What is one thing you learned today?
3. Continue around the circle until everyone has had a chance. It may be necessary to place a time limit on each individual (i.e. 30 seconds).
4. Avoid unnecessary discussion (dinner is waiting).
5. Note the comments for future discussion.
