SUBJECT: 2026 National Interagency Standards for Resource Mobilization

Attached is the 2026 National Interagency Standards for Resource Mobilization. The standards reflect interagency user needs and include a format that allows units to add local inserts.

The National Interagency Standards for Resource Mobilization establish, reference, and supplement policy for the U.S. Wildland Fire Service and the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Park Service, and Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The National Interagency Coordination Center (NICC), along with oversight from the National Multi-Agency Coordinating Group (NMAC) will revise, publish, and distribute the National Interagency Standards for Resource Mobilization annually. Errata statements will be issued if standards change after publication.

The National Interagency Standards for Resource Mobilization establishes the standards for mobilization and demobilization of resources in response to wildland fire and all-hazard events. It is the foundational document instituting overarching processes for total mobility of resources.

Suggestions for modification of the publication can be submitted at any time during the calendar year. The NICC will accept suggestions for changes through your signatory agency, through your Geographic Area Coordination Center (GACC), or through established interagency organizations such as NWCG Committees, recognized interagency groups (CGAC, ICAC, etc.), and functional areas (NIICD, RAWS, etc.).

The NICC presents all recommended changes to NMAC for their final acceptance and approval. Explanation of the modification process, instructions on how to submit changes, and the change request form are located on the NICC website.
