- 3. Engine Captain: The FOG provided the direction for the final decision of the Engine Captain proposal through a revision of Red Book language and direction.

ACTION: Draft and distribute an implementation plan regarding recent changes to Engine Captain and engine training requirements by January 31, 2013. (Mike Ellsworth)

Leadership Training: The FLT rejected the FOG's recommendation to make leadership required courses for certain fireline positions. The FLT raised the concern that this qualification requirement would reduce the application pool. New language was incorporated in the Red Book to address this concern. The BFTC discussed the need to ensure that both the FOG and FLT representatives are well-aware of issues prior to moving forward. Kim Bang expressed the need to address the FLT concerns and try to represent the leadership training requirements prior to the 2014 training season. Mike Ellsworth will work with the national office as to when to represent the issue.

4. Geographic Training Area Representative (GATR) Update (Bang/Beams)

- The GATRs have a conference call January 10, 2013.

7. IQCS Update (Ellsworth)

The IQCS Change Management Board met in December. The Federal training officers are making a concerted effort to meet more often and create a cohesive strategy regarding training issues.

- Technical Specialists – the DOI training officers will meet Monday to bring efforts to develop at DOI Technical Specialists Guide. The intent is to begin with approximately 20 positions that can be attached as an appendix to the BLM Standards for Fire Training and Workforce Development.
- Airtanker Base Positions – Presently no IQCS requirements exist. Mike Ellsworth is working with FS and BLM Aviation personnel and Jill McCurdy (FS National Training Officer) to build requirements into the system. The intent is to have something in place after the 2013 fire season. Direction will be issued through official IM.
- Lost Currency/Trainee Issue – IQCS does not presently differentiate between trainees who have lost currency or are true trainees seeking training assignments for first time qualification. IQCS programmers are developing a short-term fix through the addition of a column in the report. The long-term goal is to create a new designation in future software updates.

8. PFTC for Veterans (Ellsworth)

Mike Ellsworth asked for questions or comments concerning the recent release of FA IB-2013-005 regarding the National Office sponsoring of one member of a veteran crew or seasonal veteran at the PFTC for senior firefighter and engine boss training.

BFTC members are encouraged to contact Dave Mueller with their concerns.

9. TFM Final Project (Ellsworth)
