

Wildland Fire Management

The Bureau of Land Management is a leader in wildland fire management, carrying out a broad range of actions to protect the public, natural landscapes, recreational areas, and other values and resources. The BLM's national Fire and Aviation Program focuses on firefighter and public safety as its top priority. The program consists of fire suppression, preparedness, fuels management, community assistance and protection, outreach, and education.

